

Title: Casuistry of physiotherapy care for a patient with a diagnosis of left above-knee amputation.

Aim: To summarize the theoretical findings and casuistry of patients with a diagnosis of left above-knee amputation

Summary: The work consists of general and special parts. The general part includes a description of the anatomy and kinesiology of the lower limb. Furthermore, It present information relating to amputations, the causes of their formation, complications, prosthetics and rehabilitation from the perspective of physiotherapy. The special part includes a casuistry of a patient treated for left-sided transfemoral amputation, which includes entrance examination, the course of therapy, final examination and evaluation of the effect of treatment.